

Institutional Investor Magazine Names Toll Brothers Execs to Its 2014 All-America Executive Team

January 13, 2014

HORSHAM, Pa., Jan. 13, 2014 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Toll Brothers, Inc. (NYSE:TOL), (www.tollbrothers.com), the nation's leading builder of luxury homes, today announced that the Company and several of its executives were recognized in Institutional Investor magazine's 2014 All-America Executive Team survey of the investment community.

Toll Brothers was named Most Honored Company in the Home Building and Building Products sector among the 34 companies receiving nominations and ranked 27th overall among all of the 1,902 companies receiving votes in this year's survey of the Buy-Side and Sell-Side analyst community.

Within the Homebuilders & Building Products sector, in voting by the Sell-Side community, Toll Brothers' Chief Executive Officer, Douglas C. Yearley, Jr., was ranked as the top CEO and was ranked second by the Buy-Side community. Chief Financial Officer Martin P. Connor received a first-place ranking for Best CFO by the Sell-Side community and was ranked second by the Buy-Side. Frederick N. Cooper, Senior Vice President of Finance, International Development, and Investor Relations, was ranked first as Best Investor Relations Professional by the Buy-Side and third by Sell-Side analysts. This was the seventh consecutive year that Toll Brothers was honored by Institutional Investor for its Investor Relations.

To determine the members of the 2014 All-America Executive Team, Institutional Investor surveyed more than 1,400 Buy-Side analysts and approximately 1,200 Sell-Side analysts to name the best chief executive officers, chief financial officers, investor relations professionals and companies with the best investor relations programs in their domains. A total of 1,902 companies received votes from buy-side or sell-side analysts and 385 were named to the Most Honored Companies list by sector.
